

Like to improve your ICT skills? Want to authentically integrate ICT into your curriculum?

NEW! Introducing ICT professional development from the National Institute for Christian Education

The National Institute is now an authorised course provider of the EPICT (European Pedagogical ICT) Licence – a proven staff development program in the practical integration of ICT within everyday teaching.

Delivery

All syllabus, activities and assignments are directly related to the work taking place in the teacher's own classroom. This then dovetails into school wide ICT development.

Training is delivered:

- through a blended learning approach (face to face introductory workshop and then through an eLearning portal including forum collaboration)
- by participants working collaboratively in small teams
- via flexible timetable
- by a quality assured certified EPICT facilitator

Assessment and evaluation

On completion all teachers gain an internationally recognised licence.

The EPICT Licence can be credited towards the postgraduate accredited unit ED555 Technology and Education where a more complete biblical perspective and analysis is undertaken.

Structure

- 1 day introductory workshop
- 20 weeks of self paced on-the-job integration training blended with online delivery
- 4 core modules + 4 elective modules

Content

Note: EPICT course materials are supplied by AISWA and may not be copied or reproduced without written approval of AISWA.

4 Core modules

- Locating and incorporating electronic resources
- Word processing and the creation of interactive learning materials
- Electronic communication and collaboration
- Work methods and ICT – where ICT can make a difference

Elective modules (choose 4)

- School innovation – challenges for ICT development
- Working with videos, animation and podcasts
- E-assessment and creating online tests
- Working with digital images
- Presentation technology
- Games and learning
- Databases
- Spreadsheets
- Publishing on the web
- ICT and special needs
- Data logging

For more information
www.nice.edu.au or 02 4773 5888

